OLED lighting installation “Infuse” presented by KANEKA

KANEKA CORPORATION will present its OLED lighting installation “Infuse” at the Milano Salone 2013 this April placed at SuperStudio in Tortona, Milan (At Superstudio Più, via Tortona 27).

The 2013 installation was designed by rising young talent, architect Chikara Ohno, well established lighting designer Izumi Okayasu and noted textile designer Yoko Ando.

-An environment infused with light.-

In this installation, our goal is not to illuminate an object or display a source of light, but to create an environment defined by an intermediate condition of light.

The exhibition area is not so much an interior, but an environment like a landform where the soft light provided by many OLED panels infuses the space, forming a large 'light-scape'.

Through the use of a detailed light control program, a space with shifting changes is created.

We hope that the act of moving through a landscape permeated with light provides a new lighting experience that is richer than a purely visual one.

Enter KANEKA's 2013 OLED installation and immerse yourself in an environment infused with a spectacle of mesmerizing light.
